Thank you for choosing Sunfire Canines Dog Training!

We'd like you to know a few things for your consultation.

A team member of Sunfire Canines will contact you within three business days of your appointment to go over any additional questions or concerns. After we reach out to you, we ask that you put down a non-refundable $75 deposit to secure your position. This money will go towards your final payment. Should you cancel your appointment or reschedule, you will have to put down another non-refundable deposit. You can use Zelle, Cash App, Venmo, or PayPal for your deposit.

Please have the rest of your payment ready at the beginning of your consultation.

We accept cash, checks, Zelle, Venmo, or Cash App.

You expect this consultation to be two hours long. Your trainer will begin to get to know you and your dog by asking questions related to the personal goals you'd like to achieve.

You will receive a text about 20-30mins before your consultation stating that the trainer is on their way to you.

Please have your dog on a leash, crated, or gated off in a separate area when your trainer arrives. This is to ensure the safety of the trainer, yourself, your family, and your dog for the arrival.

Your trainer will educate you on how your dog specifically thinks and learns and what their best motivation will be. Then your trainer will set up a training plan that best suits your goals.

You will receive a clicker, which is a classical conditioning training tool used for training. You will be taught how, when, and where to use it for training your dog.

Please have your dog's favorite treats ready and available to begin training. Small pieces work best. If your scheduled appointment is near their meal time, you may want to adjust their portion of food so they are hungry and eager for training. If your dog isn't motivated by treats or food, your trainer will offer you an alternative plan.

Please have an old towel, bath mat, or blanket to teach your dog how to settle. Please ensure it is an appropriate size for your dog to lay down on and that it's easy to pick up and move around from place to place.

You are welcome and encouraged to take notes on everything you and your trainer will be going over. Please wear comfortable clothing and shoes as we will be actively training.

Here are a few recommended products we'll use throughout our training sessions. You do not have to get these products, but they will make your life much easier! Further discussion on what Your trainer will discuss training tools and equipment you'll need at your consultation. You can purchase all of these products on Amazon. You can find similar products to these, but from experience, these products listed are very durable and of high quality.
